NORTH POLE · CHRISTMAS POST

Dear Sophie,

Your letter has arrived safely at the North Pole, and it has made this snowy day a little brighter! The elves set it right on my desk, beside my mug of hot chocolate.

I hear you have been working on learning to swim. Every little step takes courage, and I hope you feel very proud of yourself.

I have made a special note of your Christmas wish: a surfboard. The workshop is full of surprises, and the elves are keeping very busy!

Keep being kind, stay curious, and remember that the best Christmas magic is the love we share with each other.

With a big, snowy hug,
Santa Claus
